SURF, SAND, & FAITH

Overcast skies, chances of rain, and cooler temperatures could not dampen the excitement for Catholic Campus Ministry's annual Beach Retreat. Forty-three students packed vans and buses on September 6 to head to North Topsail Beach on the North Carolina coast. This beloved tradition has been going on for more than 20 years, and each year, it is led by student leaders. This year's Servant Leadership team began planning the retreat back in the spring. The Beach Retreat's goal is to help people connect to each other, their faith, and to the CCM community.

"The Beach Retreat gives the impression of faith lived out, cultivating a sense of purpose and belonging for students," said Lizzie Gildner, Student Ministry Coordinator. Student leaders echoed this sentiment through their keynote talks, small group questions, and minute-to-win-it games. "For me, the Beach Retreat was a way to escape the stressful worries of school and to not only grow closer with others in CCM but also my faith," said Abby Bradbury '27, a Servant Leader.

Abby's time at the retreat during her first year at Elon helped her connect with friend Nicole

Kerr '27; it was such a pivotal moment in both their lives that it led them to become leaders for CCM this year. During her keynote talk, Nicole shared how finding a friend in Abby helped her stay connected throughout her first year and beyond. Abby explained, "Coming back this year as a sophomore and now a Servant Leader, I was able to see how everyone truly put their trust in God's hands and let their guards down to bond with others."

Despite the cloudy and rainy start to the weekend, students laughed and talked, radiating joy and community. As the sun came out Saturday afternoon, everyone ran to the beach to enjoy the sand and surf before returning for Mass and Adoration. As the retreat wrapped up on Sunday and the group packed up to return to campus, students could be heard sharing phone numbers and social media handles while planning to meet up the following week. Tyler Craig '26, who serves as an Engagement Intern with CCM, shared, "I've never been on a retreat like this where everyone was actually into what was happening, and I can't wait for the Awakening Retreat in November!"

THE HEART OF THE STORY

“Be who you are and be that well. So that you may bring honor to the Master Craftsman whose handiwork you are.” This saying of St. Francis de Sales perfectly sums up the work of Julien and Liam Dupas ’26, twin brothers from Atlanta, GA, whose student film company created CCM’s Lenten Reflections and Elon Day videos last year. Their passion for filmmaking, storytelling, and their Catholic faith shine brightly through their work.

The brothers grew up in Atlanta, but like most, priorities shifted in high school due to competing demands on their time. It was not until their senior year that they transitioned from just participating in their faith to owning it. They began regularly reading and praying with scripture, leading them to connect more personally with Christ. When they arrived at Elon, Father Peter’s homilies continued to help them deepen their faith. “CCM really changed my life, and it truly has led me in a direction that I wouldn’t know where I would be without it,” Liam stated while Julien nodded in agreement.

Choosing Elon was not a simple choice for the brothers. They picked Elon because of the ability to know the professors, the amazing communication/film department, and the delicious food. But it was the community they found that truly made Elon the best decision for their future. “We met a great group of people - three guys - during our first year with a passion for filmmaking, but we all had complementary skills. And, of course, our work at Fresh TV paved the way for the idea of having our own production company, Seismic Studios,” Liam shared.

When Father Peter realized that Liam and Julien had their own student-founded and student-run company, he could not pass up the opportunity to support and work with this group of ambitious and talented students. CCM had already been planning a few video series in the spring thanks to a successful Advent series. The desire was mutual. “We learned about Elon CCM through Instagram and liked all the creative content,” Julien explained excitedly.

The Seismic Studios team was given a general brief for the Lenten video series and let loose to follow their inspiration. Julien and Liam took ownership of the project and worked tirelessly to craft it into what Father Peter and they envisioned together. The students and faculty members who participated in interviews felt at ease and commented on how professional the team was. CCM and Seismic Studios released one new video per week through CCM’s YouTube, Instagram, and Facebook channels, and the reception was incredible.

Julien and Liam shared, “Filmmaking is tied so much to our faith, but we didn’t realize that until recently. We’re always discussing what we want to do in the future and what kind of stories we want to tell. We realized that we want to tell stories that ignite a passion in someone and ignite light into this world, whether through an overt faith project or not. We want to tell stories that haven’t been highlighted. We are starting to see just how our gift of storytelling can do good and serve others while doing it.”

ANNUAL REPORT OF GIVING

2023-2024

Catholic Campus Ministry at Elon University is incredibly grateful for the generous financial support we have received over the past year. We rely on our donors as our primary revenue source to fund our programs, events, supplies, and personnel. The following list recognizes all donors who made a financial gift to Catholic Campus Ministry during the Elon fiscal year from June 1, 2023 - May 31, 2024. Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of this list. Please send any questions to Nina Devaney, Assistant Director of Development, at cdevaney2@elon.edu.

* Parent, alumni, faculty, and staff donors who have made gifts of $1,500 or more (not including Offertory collections) are recognized by Elon as members of The Elon Society, the university's premier donor recognition society for annual giving.
